Black/White Clergy Exchange

Once again the ICRJ is facilitating an exchange between predominantly Black and predominantly White congregations in Macomb County in an effort to build relationships and bridges of understanding among African Americans and Whites while also breaking down barriers that get in the way of such interaction.

Three Black and three White clergy will partner to lead worship at the other's church with members of their choir(s) and/or musical groups. In addition, the host congregations will provide time for fellowship (including food) and open discussion on race.

Any one interested in attending any of the pulpit exchange Sundays is welcome. There is no registration fee.
